

BOUND FOR RHINE

CORP. F. E. BURT, ON WAY TO GERMANY, SAYS HE IS "FINE AND DANDY"

Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Burt of North Central Avenue are in receipt of several letters from their son, Corporal F. E. Burt, one of the last being addressed to his mother under date of Nov. 19, in which he wishes her a merry Christmas and happy New Year, and says: "I am on my way to Germany. Tell all hello for me." He is in Company F of the 117th Engineers.

In another letter to his mother, dated Nov. 11, he wrote:

"I am writing this just after we have received the best of news, which I guess you heard about the same time. I am feeling fine and dandy and at present am resting and taking it easy. Ed B. (Ed Burlingham) is getting along fine.

"I have been in the big drive. I had quite an adventure the last day I was in action. Three shells exploded near me, covering me with dirt. I will tell you all about it when I return."

Nov. 13 he wrote his brother, Leo, again declaring that he was in perfect health. He also said: "It is getting rather wintry here. I can now look forward to the time when I can see you again. I guess those days that we look forward to will not be so far away any more. Tell all hello for me and that I send my best regards."

In a letter of the 18th of November he mentions Ed Sadler, saying: "He is back with us." He also says, "I have not heard from Ed lately," meaning probably Ed Burlingham. He speaks again about the cold weather and says he is looking for snow.

DEATH OF ADOLPH RENNIE BEDDOE

Adolph Rennie Beddoe, brother of Elder B. E. Beddoe, died at the home of Elder J. A. Stevens on Everett Street, near Broadway, Christmas afternoon at 5 o'clock. He was born in Rolla, Mo., March 26, 1891, being the sixth child in a family of nine, and one of seven brothers. His father died a number of years ago, but his mother, six brothers and two sisters are still living. Mr. Beddoe was a resident of Oakland, Cal., several years before coming to Glendale. He has been employed at the Glendale Sanitarium for about two years.

The funeral services will be held at the Glendale Seventh-Day Adventist Church, Isabel Street and Wilson Avenue, Monday afternoon at 2:30. Elder J. W. Christian will conduct the services, assisted by the pastor of the church. Interment will be at Forest Lawn Cemetery.

NEWS FROM MERLE ECKLES

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Eckles have received letters from their son, Merle, who is now permitted to tell where he is located. He says he is doing what is called "maintenance and construction work" for the aero division, which means assembling and keeping airplanes in repair. He makes frequent ascents and is well up in airplane matters. He is located about 110 miles south of Paris. He surmises that his division is soon to be sent home, because they have been packing up things and the men have been asked to turn in their extra clothing. Nothing definite has been told them, but that is the way they interpret the signs of the times in their camp. Mrs. Eckles has received a beautiful little Christmas gift of hand embroidery purchased by Merle in Paris.

PRESIDENT EVANS OF OCCIDENTAL COLLEGE

Glendale people will have an opportunity of hearing President Evans, the new head of Occidental College, who will speak at Glendale Presbyterian Church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. Dr. Evans is a speaker of more than usual ability, and will no doubt be heard by a large congregation. Glendale has long been interested in the splendid college at our doors, and any representative of the institution will be welcome to our city.

RETREADS MAKE GOOD

A little over two months ago the Monarch Company, 121 South Brand, installed their vulcanizing plant.

Today on another page is evidence of their success in getting out retreads that prove of decided economical advantage to car owners.

When work of this class is so successfully done in Glendale, we believe the people of Glendale should be liberal with their patronage of the home industry.

POST AND CORPS

N. P. BANKS VETERANS AND LADIES HOLD DELIGHTFUL ALL-DAY MEETING

There was an excellent attendance at the all-day meeting of the N. P. Banks Post and W. R. C. and a delicious luncheon was served at noon by Mrs. Lillian Peckham, chairman of the luncheon committee, and her assistants.

Commander Clark of the N. P. Banks Post presided at the program session which followed the luncheon, and called upon Commander Martin of the Bartlett-Logan Post for a little talk, to which he responded in his usual cheery, entertaining manner. It is expected that he will be called upon to fill the office of department commander next year. Mrs. Martin was also called upon, but declined to speak more than to express her pleasure in being there. Comrade Mahon was then called upon and made an interesting talk relative to the present situation and matters of interest to old soldiers.

Several visitors were present, among them Comrade Jackson from the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle, who confesses to being 87 years young and who came alone from the home, returning the same way. Comrade Goss contributed several violin selections and all in all it was an exceedingly pleasant afternoon for all present.

Preparations were made for the installation of officers of the post and corps, which will be a joint affair and take place Jan. 10, the post installing at 10:30 a. m., the corps in the afternoon, with a luncheon served at noon.

CHRISTMAS AT ESTERLY HOME

A recent letter received by Mr. and Mrs. John Esterly from their son, Corporal W. W. Esterly, was dated from a New York hospital and stated that the physicians who have his case in charge wished to make an X-ray examination, and if the report is satisfactory and what they expect, they will send him to the base hospital at Camp Kearny. He stated he had been out to visit a friend, a surgeon, from which his family assumes that he is at least well enough to ride in an auto. It will be an immense relief to them, particularly his mother, when he reaches this coast and they can see him.

A very pleasant Christmas was enjoyed at the Esterly home, where representatives of four divisions of Uncle Sam's fighting forces were entertained at dinner, viz: Ralph Hodges, a marine from Galveston; Mr. Turpin of the aero division, from Key West, Florida; Private Tonticus, a soldier from Camp Kearny; and Mr. Todd, a sailor from Balboa Park. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Esterly, their daughter, Anna May, and son, John, and Miss Selma Eggert, were also guests who spent a delightful afternoon and evening over Christmas games and other diversions. The house was attractively decorated with holly, mistletoe and pepper berries.

CORRESPONDENCE SCHOOL WORK

Assistant Principal Harry Howe of Glendale Union High is quite enthusiastic over the response of students to assignments of lessons in the correspondence courses instituted when the school was closed. He says the boys and girls under his special instruction have come through 100 per cent. He assumes that others are doing as well and thinks there is little doubt that all will cover their work satisfactorily and be able to secure necessary credits. It is not easy for teachers to correct as many exercises as come to the desk of some, and pupils are groaning some over the extra work of writing what they know of a given subject, but the plan seems to be working out pretty well.

SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST NOTES

Elder Christian has returned from Loma Linda, where he went to attend a meeting of the college of medical evangelists.

When Elder Andross was last heard from he was in India.

All the cases of influenza among members of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church are getting along nicely. Elder Stephens' family is entirely recovered.

B. M. Emerson and James Howeth are absent from the office of the Pacific Union Conference, auditing accounts at one of the conferences in the northern part of the state.

The Adventist School was closed definitely for one month on account of influenza and will not reopen for about two weeks.

CONTINUE BOMBARDMENT OF PALACE

DEFENDERS SURRENDER AFTER SEVERAL MUTINOUS SAILORS ARE KILLED BY GOVERNMENT TROOPS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Berlin, Dec. 28.—Government troops renewed this morning their bombardment of the royal palace, formerly occupied by the crown prince, in which rebels had fortified themselves, and killed several mutinous sailors. The defenders later surrendered.

Von Hindenburg is reported to be marching toward Berlin with an army of loyal troops to restore order.

The Bolsheviks are still controlling the newspaper, "Vorwaertz."

REGULATIONS FOR GERMANS

GENERAL PERSHING LAYS DOWN RULES FOR CONDUCT OF GERMANS IN AMERICAN ZONE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

With the American Army of Occupation, Dec. 28.—Regulations controlling the conduct of Germans in the American zone have been promulgated by General Pershing. They provide for the registration of all inhabitants over twelve years of age and for the houses to bear placards giving the number of residents therein. Permission for the holding of any assembly is made necessary. A censorship has been established and the carrying of arms and cameras is forbidden.

FRENCH WORKMEN INDORSE 14 POINTS

THEY DECLARE LEAGUE OF NATIONS IS THE DEAREST IDEAL OF LABOR, AND LOOK TO WILSON AS GUIDE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Paris, Dec. 28.—The workmen of France, determined to prevent future wars, will insist upon the peace program of President Wilson, Albert Thomas, minister of munitions, told the United Press today. He based his statement on the expressions of thousands of French soldiers.

"I am glad President Wilson's fourteen points are restoring unity among the French Socialists," he said. "The league of nations is the dearest ideal of labor. We are watching America's attitude and have confidence in President Wilson."

GEN. MAC ARTHUR SLATED FOR PROMOTION

COMMANDER OF BRIGADE IN RAINBOW DIVISION THREE TIMES OFFICIALLY RECOMMENDED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Washington, Dec. 28.—Brigadier General Douglas MacArthur, commander of a brigade in the Rainbow Division, has been three times officially recommended for promotion to major general. The recommendation declares that he personally led his troops in the midst of great danger, and when gassed once refused removal to a hospital. His leadership is considered to be largely responsible for the taking of the Krimhilde position.

THE VISIONARY BECOME PRACTICAL

WILSON REFERS TO "LEAGUE OF NATIONS" AS THOUGHT OF CLOISTERED STUDENT NOW TO BECOME PRACTICAL

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

London, Dec. 28.—President Wilson, speaking at Guild Hall today, declared his conversations with British statesmen had revealed complete agreement that the mere ratification of peace would be worthless unless backed by a permanent concert of power to insure its maintenance.

"That is the most reassuring thing that has ever happened in the world," he said. "When this war began the idea of a league of nations was indulgently conceded as an interesting thought of cloistered students. Now we find the practical, leading minds of the world determined to get it."

ENGLAND SUSTAINS LLOYD GEORGE

ELECTED BY LARGE MAJORITIES IN AN OVERWHELMING VICTORY FOR COALITIONISTS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

London, Dec. 28.—The coalitionists obtained an overwhelming lead in Parliament in the elections of the 14th, according to results announced this afternoon, the Coalitionists numbering 77, Laborites 8, Liberals 3. Arthur Henderson, a Laborite, ran a poor third. Premier Lloyd George was re-elected to Parliament by large majorities, and Herbert Asquith, leader of the opposition in Parliament, was defeated by Strip, a Unionist.

EBERT GOVERNMENT SAID TO BE OVERTHROWN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

The Hague, Dec. 28.—The Ebert government has virtually been overthrown, according to a Berlin dispatch of Thursday. Scheidemann, leader of the Socialists, has fled the city. It is predicted that a new cabinet will be formed which will include Liebknecht and Ledebour, and that a central soviet will be organized.

A LUXEMBURG LETTER

MRS. C. L. PECKHAM HEARS FROM NEPHEW WITH ARMY OF OCCUPATION

Mrs. Charles L. Peckham of 245 North Central Avenue has received a most interesting communication from her nephew, Lyman D. Balkema, who is with the American expeditionary forces abroad, his letter being dated Nov. 27 and postmarked Luxembourg. He writes:

"Dear Aunt Lillie: I am now in Luxembourg as a part of our army of occupation on my way to the Rhine. We traveled from France through Belgium and into the province of Luxembourg in less than forty-eight hours. It was some traveling all right. The country through which we have been moving has been quite pretty, the little villages snug in one corner and the hills covered with fir and beech trees, making them very beautiful. One was especially nice, the town of Arlons, in Belgium, which is quite a thriving place, especially considering the position it was in during the invasion by the Germans.

"Every one seems very glad to see the American soldiers, especially the Belgians, who gave us a royal welcome while we were billeted in their houses and barns for a night in passing through. They did everything they could to make us comfortable.

"Just as we were entering the town of Chatillon we noticed a sign on a tree, placed there by some civilian, which read: 'Long live the Allies and thank God for President Wilson.' Also, everywhere the people have made flags to represent Old Glory, some of them having thirteen stripes and round dots for stars, but anyway they meant well and showed their appreciation.

"I am feeling fine, my one big ambition being to again set my feet on the soil of the U. S. A. I hope you are well and enjoying the holiday season. My regards to all and wish them a merry Christmas and happy New Year.

"With love, your nephew,

"LYMAN D. BALKEMA.

LIEUT. WHEELER HERE

Lieut. Leo Wheeler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Wheeler of 1320 North Maryland, stopped here to visit his parents while en route from Camp Johnson, Fla., to San Francisco on a holiday furlough. He enlisted in San Francisco, was promoted rapidly and sent to an officers' training school at Camp Joseph E. Johnson. There he completed a course and received a commission as lieutenant. He was scheduled to sail for over there Nov. 9, and his belonging were on the transport which was held and then turned back when the armistice was signed, Lieut. Wheeler being returned to Camp Johnson. It was a great disappointment to him. He does not know when he will be discharged from service. He acted as instructor during the two months preceding his orders to sail for France.

FLOWER TRADE GOOD

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Kelley have been greatly impressed with the increased celebration of Christmas this year in comparison with 1917, as shown by the patronage their floral shop received. Never before, in their business experience here, have so many flowers been sent as Christmas gifts. They found it by no means easy to keep up with the demands of their trade, which was easily double that of last year. When Mr. Kelley ordered and received a load of beautiful blooming cyclamen, his wife shook her head and assured him they would be left on their hands, but when Christmas Eve arrived not one was left, neither were there any cut flowers in stock.

CHRISTMAS GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Duffield of Lomita Ave. were Christmas guests of the actor, James Corrigan, of the Moscoro Company, and Mrs. Corrigan, who is known on the stage as Lillian Elliott. They have two interesting children—an 18-year-old son who, after making a brilliant record at Hollywood High, where he took all the honors in sight, has continued his fine record as a student at Berkeley. Their second child is an 11-year-old son.

DINNER PARTY

Dr. and Mrs. Colin Cable of Columbus Avenue entertained at dinner Friday evening in honor of Mrs. H. R. Hartwig of St. Joseph, Mo., covers being also laid for Mrs. Helen Bennett and her daughter, Miss Gertrude Bennett, of Manhattan Place, Los Angeles. The handsomely appointed table was centered with poinsettia and holly.

MASONIC CEREMONIES

OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED BY UNITY LODGE AND BANQUET SERVED

Installation of officers of Unity Lodge No. 368, F. & A. M., took place Friday evening at Masonic Temple, with appropriate ceremonies. The officers to be installed were:

Roy William Masters, Worshipful Master.
Charles Ben Wilde, Senior Warden.
Frederick Baker, Junior Warden.
Frank Horne Vesper, Treasurer.
Alphonso Walker Tower, Secretary.
Henry Posley Goodwin, Senior Deacon.

Dwight West Stephenson, Junior Deacon.
Alphonso Lafayette Chandler, Chaplain; Herbert Muir Morton, Marshal.

Harmon S. Strong, Senior Steward.
Newton Van Why, Junior Steward.
Alfred Edmund Ricksecker, organist.

Charles Henry Ravenscroft, Tyler.
Dan Campbell, John Hobbs, Chas. W. McFadden, trustees.

Not all of these could be present, Lieut. Dwight Stephenson, for example, being in army service.

Inspector Edward B. Spencer, who was the installing officer, made an excellent address, his theme being "On the Square," which had reference to the secret work of the order. He also gave an interesting report of the affairs of the Masonic Home at Covina, of which he is a trustee. He stated that sixteen boys who had been graduated from the home had entered army service, and that there is one gold star on the service flag of the institution.

Retiring Master Neel was presented with the Past Master's jewel. Prof. Harry Howe making the presentation speech.

Refreshments were served in the banquet hall and announcement was made of a change in the policy of the lodge the coming year. On account of the war very few entertainments or social affairs have been given by the organization, but during the coming twelve months, it is expected, many entertainments, banquets and smokers will be given, and there is every prospect that it will be a most interesting year.

MISS MARIE OLIVER ENTERTAINS

Miss Marie Oliver was hostess at a party given Friday evening at the home of her mother, 1314 North Central Avenue, which was beautifully decorated for the function with ferns, holly and Christmas colors. The guest list included: Misses Naomi Taylor, Elizabeth Webb, Ruth Nicholson, Virginia Chapuis, Harriet Barnes, Nellie Logan, Helen Ingledue, Mary Eckles, Dorothy Piatt, Messrs. Paul Richardson, Harold Dewey, Sabín Buck, Stewart McMullin, Russell Pennell, Ed Newcomb, Elwood Ingledue, Clarence Tobey, Roger Dennison, John Bender, Hubert Wood and Chester Weaver.

The evening's entertainment consisted of music and games, Miss Webb and Mr. Ingledue carrying off the honors in the "tree game." After delicious refreshments had been served guests adjourned feeling that youth and mirth had joined hands.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TREAT

It is hoped that every scholar in the Sunday school of the First Methodist Church will be in his or her place Sunday morning to hear the talk which will be made by First Class Pharmacist Mate Harold Arnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Arnett of North Jackson Street, who has been in the U. S. navy for more than a year and who has four brothers serving Uncle Sam in various departments of the army or navy. His talk will be based more or less upon his naval experiences. He had just about completed a course in a theological seminary at Louisville, Ky., when the United States entered the war, and he felt it his duty to enlist in the aerial department of the navy. He is the first son to be discharged from service and was the only one of the five who was able to spend Christmas with his parents.

E. L. YOUNG BURNED

E. L. Young of Riverdale Drive had an unfortunate experience in connection with a Christmas celebration, in which there was a Christmas tree with the usual setting of white cotton to suggest snow. In some manner the cotton was ignited and blazed up through the tree, which Mr. Young caught with both hands and carried to the yard. In the operation his hands were badly burned. He is doing nicely, but will not have the full use of the injured members for about two weeks, his doctor says. It happened Thursday night.

WHERE THE FARMER STANDS

There are six million farms in the United States. The government estimate that the crops of 1918 were worth $12,280,000,000 means that the average American farm grew produce worth about $2,050—this being fully $90 more than in any previous year. By no means all this is the mere fictitious increase in wealth represented by higher prices. We planted a higher acreage than ever before. Secretary Houston speaks cautiously of the farmers' increases in money returns. He suggests they are simply "proportionate with those of other producers in the nation," and indicate merely that the farmer's purchasing power "has kept pace in the rising scale of prices." But we know that the farmer has gone well ahead of the average wage-earner. Climatic conditions this year were unfavorable for some areas, especially the southwest, but the land owner as a whole has been amazingly rewarded.

The social historian could fill volumes with extraordinary stories of what the most expert, best situated farmers receive in a year. In Illinois some fifty farmers have reported to the State University yields of fifty bushels of wheat an acre; this means $104, or half the price of excellent land. The same state reports farmers who threshed from second crop clover four bushels of seed at $20 a bushel, thinking little of it. Purdue last spring collected statistics for twenty-five farms in Decatur County, Indiana, showing that owner-farmers made an average of 19.7 per cent on their investment, and those renting to neighbors 12.2 per cent. From Aroostock County, Maine, come stories as of the farmer who bought a homestead for $7,200, and with one crop of potatoes paid for it, the seed and the tools. Farmers in the fortunate communities in the southwest have paid for land with one wheat crop, and Montana ranchers have done as well with a year's wool and mutton. When a fat hog will sell for $50 and a steer for $150, stockmen find little difficulty in surprising the Liberty Loan collectors. It is true that the average return, less farm expenses and labor, is a different matter; and that one reason such instances seem startling is that we are used—too justly—to think of farmers as ill-paid drudges.—Exchange.

CURIOUS USE OF VEGETABLE OILS

The process of crushing the seeds of various plants for the purpose of extracting the oils contained therein has been known and employed in Japan for centuries, the art probably having been brought over from the Asiatic mainland during the seventh and eighth centuries, A. D., when Chinese and Korean civilization was introduced into Japan. Rapeseed oil has long been used for frying fish and lobsters and is today the principal fat in the Japanese diet. Cottonseed oil was used as a substitute for rapeseed oil and for lighting purposes, while perilla oil was and is today used as the waterproofing element in the manufacture of paper umbrellas and oiled paper lanterns. The ancient Japanese also understood the extraction of oil from woad, as "tung" or wood oil was used before the coming of the foreigners. "Teubaki" oil, a highly pungent and cheap essential oil extracted from the camellia plant, has been used in the past, as it is today, by the Japanese women in arranging their elaborate headdresses.—Exchange.

HOUSEWIVES TRADE IDEAS THROUGH NEWSPAPERS

There will be competition this winter in El Paso County, Texas, among housewives in various communities as to which neighborhood can furnish the county with the most helpful ideas. The county paper during the past year has given its "Farm Home Department" into the charge of the home demonstration agent of the Department of Agriculture, working with the State Agricultural College, the county agricultural agent and their helpers. Each week the department is to be in charge of women of different communities, who will fill the columns with articles and ideas they consider most valuable. Another interesting feature in the same paper is called "Bridget's Corner." This column is under the supervision of the home demonstration agent, who has been giving cookery lessons in it.

ARSENICAL SPRAY SAVES BERRIES

Arsenical spraying for the control of the insects known as leaf rollers that are injurious to strawberry, blackberry, raspberry and related plants of the rose family, has been found to accomplish good results. The Bureau of Entomology reports the saving of at least 50 per cent by the use of this spray in Iowa and Kansas. A single spraying resulted in destroying two-thirds of the pests.

DESPONDENT WOMAN TAKES HER LIFE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Los Angeles, Dec. 28.—Foiled in an attempt to kill her husband, Mrs. Florence Agour, member of a prominent Spanish family here, killed herself today. She went to the Agour ranch today, pulled a gun on Lester Agour and was about to fire when G. T. Vail wrested the gun from her. The woman was later found dying from poison. Vail explained that she was despondent because suit had been filed seeking the annulment of her marriage to Agour on the ground that she had another husband living.

MORE THAN MILLION SOLDIERS BOOKED FOR DISCHARGE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Washington, Dec. 28.—More than half a million men have been dismissed from the army camps to date, and more than one million are booked for discharge here and abroad, Chief of Staff March announced today. The demobilization of the Tenth Division at Camp Funston will occur probably in January. It will be among the last to be demobilized, owing to the policy of maintaining complete divisions.

OBITUARY

Dr. John Edward Bahrenburg, 61 years of age, was born in Indianapolis, Ind., July 13, 1857. His father, Dr. John Henry Bahrenburg, also a physician, was for many years a minister of the gospel in the Methodist church.

At the age of 20, Dr. Bahrenburg graduated as a physician from the Missouri Medical College at St. Louis, Mo., and soon thereafter took up post-graduate studies in Chicago and New York. Finishing in these, he then took up active practice and remained faithful to his chosen profession until but a few weeks preceding his death, which occurred on Sunday, Dec. 22, in Bakersfield, at the home of his two sons.

He made an enviable reputation as a close student as well as a careful practitioner and one thoroughly in love with his profession—ever ready to answer the call of those in need of his services.

On Sept. 4, 1879, he was united in marriage to Alice Georgia Dorff of St. Louis, Mo.

He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Alice G. Bahrenburg, and two sons, C. N. Bahrenburg and Dr. G. E. Bahrenburg, both of Bakersfield. Dr. Bahrenburg took an active interest in the Presbyterian Church for a period of 39 years, and held the position of elder in two different churches.

during this time.

He has lived in California the past 17 years, during which time he resided in Los Angeles and Glendale, the latter being his home at the time of his death. He was laid to rest in Inglewood Cemetery Friday.

The installation of officers of Glen Eyrie Chapter of the Eastern Star will take place Jan. 9.

The Pythian Sisters held their regular lodge meeting Friday evening at the Knights of Pythias hall on Brand Boulevard and Park Avenue.

Mrs. Sadie Ziegler, niece of Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Norton, who is living in San Pedro at present, is spending the week-end at the Norton home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McPeck of 401 Vine Street had Christmas dinner with their nephew, R. E. Branscomb off Los Angeles.

The annual business meeting and roll call of the Central Christian Church will be held at the church next Tuesday evening.

Norman Begg of 435 Vine Street suffered from a light attack of influenza, but was out of bed before the quarantine sign could be placed on the door.

Mr. and Mrs. James Farrell of East Broadway entertained at Christmas dinner and for the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chambers and children.

The Sunset Masonic Lodge of Los Angeles is installing officers tonight, and Frank Booth of this city has been invited to attend the exercises and banquet in connection.

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Smith of 143 Garfield Avenue have sold their home and gone to San Francisco to reside. They left by auto just before Christmas. Mr. Smith is a railroad man.

Mrs. E. Lawton of 1717 Gardena Avenue has sold her home to Mr. Sebastian, who has been living at 1721 Gardena, and who is related to the former Los Angeles mayor of that name.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Booth spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Hills of Los Angeles, who also entertained a few other friends for dinner. They remained for the evening which was devoted to games and a general good time.

Will Rees, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Rees of San Rafael Street, who has been with the aero squadron in England, got home Sunday night. Friends who have seen him say he has grown tall and developed in other ways.

Dr. and Mrs. A. A. McIntyre of 306 North Central Avenue had the pleasure of entertaining at dinner their old-time friends, Dr. and Mrs. Palmer Ross Reynolds, who motored to their home from Santa Ana the day after Christmas.

Mrs. Roy E. Spillsbury of 1755 Gardena Avenue has just received word that her brother, who was abroad with the American forces, was killed in action in October. He enlisted from San Bernardino, where his parents reside.

Mrs. Catherine Bell of 414 Vine Street and son, Orvall Bell, and grandson, Edgar Brown, were Christmas guests at the home of Mrs. Bell's daughter, Mrs. Bart Griffin and family of El Monte, and report a very enjoyable time.

The reception planned by the congregation of the First Methodist Church for their new pastor, Rev. Scott, and family, which was to have been held on New Year's Eve, has been postponed until health conditions are more favorable.

Mrs. Minette Sherman and daughters, of Vine Street, were thankful to be out of quarantine in time for Christmas. Margery Sherman, who had influenza, has entirely recovered. Mrs. Sherman is rejoicing because she and her daughter, Dorothy, escaped the infection.

Rev. W. J. Marsh, acting pastor of the Glendale Congregational Church, was called to San Bernardino today (Saturday) to officiate at the funeral of an old parishioner of his in Albuquerque, who had been residing in San Bernardino recently and who died following an operation for appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Mattison B. Jones of 340 North Orange Street, Glendale, entertained at dinner Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Jackson and Mr. Jackson's mother, who is here from the east as his house guest. Miss Winifred Jones has been the guest of Mrs. Phillips of Los Angeles this week. Attorney Jones will make an address at the Temple Baptist Church in Los Angeles next Sunday on Belgium's part in the war.

WOOD SELLS BUILDING LOT

G. H. Wood of Burbank, who so luckily got the Red Cross lot on North Central Avenue donated by Ezra Parker, has sold it to H. P. Finlay, who now resides at the corner of Doran and Kenwood. The price received was $1,250. Mr. Finlay intends to build on his newly acquired possessions soon.

DEC. 28, 1882

—36 years ago today, an Endowment Policy was issued by the Provident Life & Trust Co. of Philadelphia, which, considering the insurance protection, is the finest investment I have ever seen or heard of.

The Company dislikes for us to mention names of policyholders, but I will say that it was Policy No. 19,184, age 24, 10 payment endowment at 60. At a total cost of $9,897.68 the insured has had insurance protection beginning at $20,000 and increasing each year by reason of the dividends, till today he receives $32,299.73 IN CASH for income in his old age!

Such management and results are unequalled. Ask me to show you the yearly history of this policy. Do you wonder that I believe in Provident Endowments?

RED CROSS NOTES

Mr. Steinhart, field representative of the home service department of the Pacific division, visited the Glendale chapter Friday morning and had a conference with the home service committee, of which Mrs. Arthur Brown is chairman.

Mrs. Helen Campbell, chairman of knitting, states that the expected sweater yarn has arrived and that workers in this department can secure it by calling at headquarters on Monday or Thursday afternoons, when the department will be open.

Miss Coral Griffith, head of the comfort bag department, shipped 83 "housewives" for soldiers to the Pacific division Friday. It is her understanding that they will be included in shipments which are to go to American soldiers in Siberia. The entire quota to this chapter was 300, and she is in great need of help in this work.

Mrs. George Whitaker and Miss Coral Griffith, who had charge of the Red Cross roll, state that the drive in Glendale will not be continued, i. e., there will be no resumption of the house-to-house canvass, but that subscriptions will continue to be received at the headquarters of the chapter on Brand Boulevard. The roll in this city now amounts to $1,600.

Workers in the chapter's sewing department are rejoicing over the fact that of the 4,000 hospital handkerchiefs allotted the organization, all but four dozen have been taken out, and the great majority have been returned finished. Workers who can help complete this allotment by taking some, if not all of these handkerchiefs, are needed.

WRITER USES DESK OF HUN SUB. CHIEF

Aboard Under-sea Cruiser U-117, Harwich Harbor, Dec. 10. (By Mail.) The U-117, which during June, July and August cruised up and down the American Atlantic coast, sinking sailing vessels, tugs, barges and coast-wise passenger steamers, lies under a thin fog tonight in Harwich Harbor—reduced to a curiosity.

Just up the harbor floats a fleet of 89 other former German U-boats, tied up in twos and threes.

Stripped of her crew and potentiality for frightfulness, the monster submarine is nestling alongside a sister diver, while English sailors search her for booby traps.

In her empty control room the butt ends of her two periscopes—one for navigation and the other for range-finding—swing useless, with no one to look through them.

She returned last September to Kiel from a three-months cruise in American waters, with a record of 40,000 tons of shipping sent down, according to her crew.

From her mine racks in the rear to the torpedo tubes in the prow—through a greasy, queer-smelling jungle of steel rods and tubes, tiny steel walled compartments joined by man-hole doors, through the crew's quarters, the officers' and captain's cabins, the control room, the kitchen and the engine and switchboard rooms—is close to 300 feet.

The only variation in the steel lining of the passageway is the captain's cabin, where I am writing this—a pretty little den about eight feet square, with oak-paneled walls. Each panel is the door of a cupboard. There is just enough room for a lounge, upholstered in beautiful imitation leather (the captain's bed), a little oak desk, where he wrote his log, and a small oak armchair, with an upholstered cushion.

The only other hint of luxury in the ship is the leather upholstery on the officers' berths in the adjoining cabin.

Both are simply enlargements of the direct end-to-end passageway of the ship.

The U-117 could shoot 28 torpedoes without returning to base. She had a mine-carrying capacity of 40 mines, and a 4-inch gun on her deck in front of the conning tower.

She has three places of control—on top of the conning tower for surface travel, in the conning tower, for semi-submerged or near-the-surface travel, and the lower control room, still further down, for deep submerged sailing. A slippery steel ladder, running through the manholes in the ceiling, connects the three.

Here, squinting into the periscope, with one hand resting on the engine room telegraph beside him, the captain directed the actions. Behind him, with his back to him, stood the pilot, at an iron steering wheel set perpendicularly in the wall.

The life of a German submarine sailor was a series of restrictions. He climbed from his narrow iron bunk in the morning to bump into the bunk across the aisle. He squeezed down the narrow passageway to the tiny washroom. He ambled a little further along to another small compartment where the cook bends over a square electric cooking range with a cooking surface about 30 inches square on top and a small oven below.

He probably returned to his bunk to eat his ration, for there is no dining room. Perhaps he went back to the torpedo or mine room, where there is a small open floor space about ten by eight feet.

Or, if the submarine happened to be running on the surface, he climbed up the narrow steel ladder through the hatch (a manhole with a water-tight lid) to the deck.

Then, if he were an engineer's helper, he worked in a narrow aisle between two sets of Diesel engines.

If he were in the torpedo crew he would sweat under a constellation of steel-caged electric bulbs in a long, low-ceilinged compartment on the lowest deck of the boat. He entered through a manhole in the wall, squeezed down an aisle between two rows of torpedo racks to the tube ends, where he had a small free space.

MAKE GOOD

W. P. Bullock of the Verdugo Ranch Dairy ran a 31x4 Monarch Rib Retread 4496 miles on a heavy milk delivery car. At this distance an accident to the tire made necessary the putting in of a section. We were obliged to remove a small portion of the tread, which was found to be less than half worn through and perfectly sound in every respect.

This tire is again in service and should run at least 4000 miles further. Mr. Bullock now has five Monarch Retreads.

Mr. Howard Reynolds of La Crescenta made a trip to San Francisco and back, covering a total of over 1200 miles. The right front and rear tires used on this trip were both Monarch Rib Retreads. They made the round trip without a scratch, the rear tire showing but very little wear and the front none whatever. Mr. Reynolds now has four Monarch Retreads on his machine.

The above instances go to substantiate our claim: That Quality in both material and workmanship make the Retread an Economic Success.

This is why every one of our customers is a "booster" for Monarch Retreads. Quality counts the same in Retreads as in New Tires. EXPERT TIRE INSPECTION COSTS YOU NOTHING AND MAY HELP YOU SAVE MANY A DOLLAR

A NEW YEAR'S PLEDGE

(By Goldie Isabel Steelman.)

No more the gaudy world 'empts me away

From fireside and happy children's play—

From home, where loving smiles of welcome give

The heart its greatest help and strength to live;

To live and learn the way that leads aright

To life and joy and God's eternal light.

Glendale, 1918.

PUSH THE BUTTON AND FIND A PIC

A Litchfield (Conn.) County agent originated an interesting plan for an agricultural survey. If you want to locate a supply of seed corn or oats, a grain binder, a pure-bred bull, or some young pigs in any community in five counties in this state, all you have to do is to walk into the office of the state librarian at Hartford, Conn., run a series of cards through an electric sorting machine, and presto, you have the information. It may sound a little like the story of Aladdin's lamp, but it is only big business applied to farm affairs under war stress. The council of defense took up this plan and offered to back the farm bureaus to the limit in every county in the state. Five of the eight counties began surveys early in March, 1918. Forty questions, under the heading of area, crops harvested in 1917, crops planned to be harvested in 1918, live stock on hand, machinery on hand, and employees, were included in the survey, and a corps of volunteer farmer census enumerators got busy. When the survey was completed the farm bureaus had a stack of cards containing minute information as to the resources and needs of every farm. An electric sorting machine was installed in the state library, and any fact disclosed by the survey can be made available by throwing on an electric switch. The survey has been invaluable in helping Connecticut to mobilize her agricultural forces for war needs.

FOOD WILL BE SCARCE IN FRANCE FOR A YEAR

Paris, Dec. 1918.—Food will continue to be short in quantity and expensive in France for a year, according to a report on the 1918 crop compiled by Boret, French food controller.

With the exception of the wheat crop, which will be larger than that of 1917, all of the cereals will be short. Corn, barley, oats and beans will be especially scarce.

The potato crop is estimated at 7,500,000 long tons, although it has averaged 12,000,000 tons for ten years.

A Londoner who recently entertained a party of nine at a medium-priced Paris restaurant was presented with a bill for 310 francs, nearly $7 a plate. The meal consisted of soup, fish, chicken, coffee and a small portion of white wine for each guest.

PAPERS ARE LARGER

London, Dec., 1918.—English newspapers are getting back to peacetime proportions as a result of the general election. Because of the election the print paper controller released three times as much print paper during December as in other months.

Many London afternoon newspapers immediately increased their sizes from four to eight pages. One morning paper retained its four-page war size, but reduced its price from two pence to one.

During the war most English daily papers sold for 2 pence, the equivalent of 4 cents American.

LEONARDO DA VINCI INVENTED TANK AND SUB.

(By Henry Wood.)

Rome, Dec. 1819.—Four hundred years before submarines and tanks were used in the great European conflict, both these instruments of warfare had been not only foreseen but actually invented by probably the greatest all-around genius the world has ever produced.

Leonardo da Vinci, born in 1452, is known to the world today principally as an artist and especially for his "Last Supper" and "La Gioconda." As a matter of fact, Leonardo was equally as great a genius from the standpoint of sculpture, architecture, engineering, invention, canal and harbor building, music and just about everything else which calls for genius.

From his writings it is now established that he not only invented submarines and tanks, but even foresaw their actual tactical use in precisely the same manner as the recent war has demonstrated that they can be utilized best.

Writing to Leonardo il Moro, Duke of Milan, relative to his "tanks," Leonardo da Vinci had this to say:

"I know how to construct covered indestructible assaulting cars, carrying artillery, that will open a way through the enemy's ranks and pierce the most solid lines of defense. The infantry will follow them without difficulty."

As to the submarines which he invented, Leonardo wrote:

"You ask why I have not written about my means for staying under water as long as it is possible for you to stay there without food, why I don't publish it and why I don't make it public? Simply because of the brutal manner in which men would use this means for assassinating in the world of the sea, for destroying ships and for sinking them together with their crews."

HORSES MAY LOSE THEIR LAST EXCLUSIVE DRIVEWAY

New York, Dec. 28.—New Yorkers have been doing some worrying recently about the city's $5,000,000 "Lonesome Trail."

It is the Harlem River speedway, famous a generation ago as a fashionable driveway on which the obnoxious horseless carriages were not permitted to trespass. In order to assure the horses of perpetual immunity from gasoline odors, a law was put through the state legislature forever banning horseless contraptions from the speedway.

The speedway is a beautiful scenic driveway, extending for several miles along the Manhattan bank of the Harlem River. The cost of its upkeep is very considerable.

Recently an unfeeling citizen, having observed that the driveway was absolutely deserted, drove his motor car on it. He was arrested and fined. A supreme court upheld the sentence. Statisticians who have taken up lonely watches along the speedway assert that as many as three persons have been known to ride horseback on the expensive roadway in one day, during the last years, while a horse in harness has been seen passing as many as 53 times in 24 hours. Most of these horses are racers, being exercised by their tenders.

Motorists want the speedway opened to motor traffic, like any other parkway or drive. They claim the city is not getting its money's worth for its $5,000,000, and that the road menders, almost the sole moving figures along the long stretch of highway, are having entirely too easy a life. They are planning an appeal to the legislature.

PEACE BRINGS SWALLOWS

London, Dec., 1918.—Evening dress, generally abandoned in England during the war, is coming out of the moth balls.

King George set the fashion before the armistice was a month old by abandoning uniform for black. Now fashionable restaurants and theaters are crowded by men in evening clothes.

LA CANADA

Lieutenant Tyler Van Dergrift has returned from Camp Taylor, where he received his commission as lieutenant of field artillery. He was an instructor for the last three months of his service and expected to be sent across. It was a great disappointment to him when he failed to realize his wish. His brother, Harvey Van Dergrift, has returned from the Pacific Hospital, where he was treated for influenza, from which he has entirely recovered.

A delightful Christmas Eve party at the home of Mrs. Will Lindsay in Glendale Heights was enjoyed by about forty of her neighbors and local friends, with a few guests from Los Angeles. Music and games furnished the chief diversions of the evening, and Mr. Robinson, a veteran of the great war who has been in the Australian army, gave a most interesting talk.

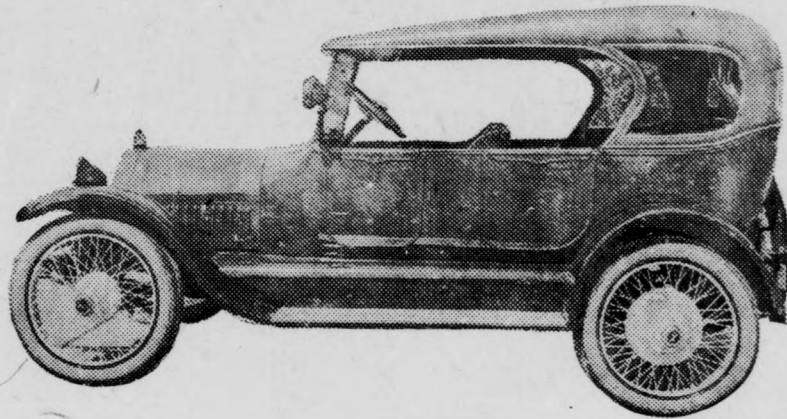

Sam Durant, son of Mrs. Nellie Durant, got home last week. He had been a listener-in on an Atlantic transport in the naval service.

Howard Stickney, who enlisted in the navy as a yeoman, is at home.

Private Witham has received his honorable discharge from Camp Kearny and is at home.

J. J. Scow of La Crescenta, who has been in the Spruce Division, has been sent south from Vancouver to Camp Kearny and expects soon to receive his discharge.

Mr. and Mrs. Silson spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Pate of Hilliard Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Selleck rented their La Canada home rather unexpectedly to a family of four newcomers. Miss Selleck is at present in Pasadena and her parents are in the Imperial Valley, where her father is making ranch improvements and putting in crops.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Dutour entertained a little girl from Los Angeles as a Christmas guest.

Malcolm McNaghten of Michigan and Palm Avenue has been confined to his home by influenza, but is now getting around again.

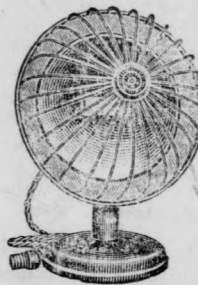

Mrs. Margaret Connor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Green, and her baby, were Christmas guests at the Green home, where a family reunion took place.

Kent Savage, well known in La Canada, who has been in the ammunition corps of the 91st Division, has been commended for bravery in action. He has had about two months' service at the front and had expected to be sent home in the near future, but is likely to be disappointed, as, according to late announcements of the war department, the 91st is scheduled for an occupation army.

Seventeen covers were laid at a Christmas dinner and party of relatives and friends at the Van Dergrift home.

Harlan Durand, who has been away from home in a position, came home to celebrate Christmas with his parents and his brother, Samuel Durand, of the U. S. navy, who arrived recently and who has many interesting stories to tell of his experiences in the service, not the least interesting of which were encounters with three submarines.
